“ I remember the first time I call my mother-in-law, my husband's grandmother just past away. I found an old address book and saw my mother-in-laws number. I called it just to see if the number was still the same. Lord be hold ,she picks it up. I said(Hi! is this Cheryl Cable?) She says YES! Then I told her this is you're daughter -in-law! I married you're son (Wee Bobby) Bob. To this day I remember her crying! Then told her how I found her number and address. And how Bob was doing, then I gave her a bigger shock that her son and I are pregnant and having a boy! She was yelling at her mom telling her that her son is having a baby boy!

Years later we took our first family trip to PA. Because Bob and his mom have not seen each other for 20 years, once we found the street(which by the way took 15 mins to find ,because Bob didn't want to ask for help!) Ha!Ha! but we finally found her street. We got out of our car and for the first time in 20 years mom and son came together with tears of joy! I was so happy to reunite this family! I felt proud of myself to see it in person. That day to me was the must a good ( No) it was the best of our life! Bob got to see his mom, I got to met her and she got to see her first born grandchild Bo! plus we got to meet the rest of the family too! which was Awsome! we didn't realize how big this family was, and to this day the family grows!

I also remember a time years later she came to Illinois. to our Sweetcorn Festival. She went with my best friend and I. We started out just walking around looking at the flea market. Which we woman love to look and shop! but we didn't buy anything . We looked at all the rides and I thought of something. I dared myself to ask my mother-in-law if she would ride a couple of rides with me! The look she gave me like I was nuts enough to ask her! At first she said(NO!) then I dared her! One ride was a ride that would go around circle and up and down plus it went backwards! she went on it, boy I thought she was going to be mad. Nope! She laughed, because my hair was all over the places, my best friend was laughing at both of us. Because she didn't know who won the wild hair do Cheryl or me! I think Cheryl did, that was the only ride she rode. plus we were wanting to eat. After eating we played some games Cheryl won a snake toy, which I still have it to this day!

She was great with the grandkids! She always enjoyed talking to them a when she saw them she always enjoyed their hugs. My family like my mom, always kept in touch writing to each other plus sending cards and letters! We video chat one day at my house with Bob's mom. the mothers were chatting away of course! LOL! We all got to talk to her even the kids.it was great to see her then talking on the phone.I always asking her if she is being good. She always say (yes1) but I think she was getting in to trouble. LOL! I was try my best to make her laugh as much possible. She always telling to keep Bob out of trouble which is hard now these days!

I got to say she was an awesome mother-in-law, loving, caring a great soul of a person and funny plus loves to laugh. She loves meeting new people and talking to them! She was a great grandmother too! She will be missed but in no more pain and is a free spirit watching over us with the good Lord and her family in heaven. we love you Cheryl to the moon and back and we will miss you!

*Love Always ( Wee Bobby) AKA Bob,
Valerie and your grandchildren

“ Thank you, Lord, for my sister, Cheryl; for all the memories. I’ve known her all but seventeen years of my life. Today she will be laid to rest, only to rise again when you come for her. Thank you for allowing her to suffer no longer, and to have your sweet Peace. Amen.
