“ Dennis, Debbie and Donna--my sincere condolences to all of you for the loss of your father. Deb, you and I were besties before there was even a term for that, way back in the day when we lived next door to each other for years in Knox while we grew up. I could never list the memories I had at your house or with you and all the things we did together as kids, as it would take years. Just know that these memories are always remembered fondly when Gregg and I get together and talk about our childhood memories. Almost every sentence starts out with, "do you remember when Debbie, Dennis's or Donna did this with me or that with Gregg". All the Dennis memories start out with him doing something bad to one of us lol. We are praying for you all and hope your hearts heal fully as you mourn the loss of your dad. We truly love all of you and couldn't imagine going through childhood without you guys there everyday and know we are praying for all of you during this difficult time.
