“ I know I expressed my condolences to you all, but I wanted to add a little to that. I have been friends with all of you, and at times, an adversary to most of you. But she was, back in the day, a second mother to me. I think we could all learn from how she interacted with others. Her laugh and her compassion will now become her spirit. Based on my experiences, if you think you feel her presence you probably do...

“ I'm so sorry for your family's loss. During difficult times, such as this, we don't always know what to say or do. Please find comfort and help from our loving Father at 2 Corinthians 1:3,4. God can give us the strength and help we need to get through anything.
