“ My time with Heidi was so transformative and beautiful. We went through a lot of changes and challenges hand in hand, while having a friendship that was so easy to fall into line. She loved making her coffee so muddy and thick. We spent hours listening to music and binge watching Glee and Reign. We both cried when Finn died and we're lost when Queen Mary of Scotts was beheaded. She always told me that "the boy" was in love with me and I would laugh and shake my head no...lol... Now he is here with me just as she said. We cried when she went back home, we all need walked around like we lost our best friend for quite awhile,. But we knew she was where she would be happiest and it was time to make room for new doors here. Now we cry because she moved further on,. Though I know she wouldn't want us too. She is in a place full of dogs, horses, and her passed loved ones. We love you Heidi.
