“ Ron and i worked the oil wells together back in the day, he was the driller and i was the tool dresser. A lot of hard work, but he was the man for the job. R.I.P. my friend, GOD's blessings and peace for Ron and his families. Loren (Butch) Conner

“ Ron was a blessing to me and my family. Ron was a man who had a work ethic that inspired us. He was there to make the best of our birthdays and holidays and he was there when we were sick. He was a man of action who lead by example. His actions taught us what it means to be dedicated, to be selfless, and how to love unconditionally.

When we had company Ron enjoyed telling stories. He would entertain us with the most vivid and quite frankly, at times, hard-to-believe stories. He had a way of becoming a character and capturing the entire room's attention while he spoke. It brought joy to all of us.

Today we thank god that his body is at peace. Today we are thankful that he is not in pain anymore.

We love you dearly, Ron, and we pray that we are reunited when our time comes.

With love,

Your family and Leah, your "deedlebug"
