“ Many years ago, my husband and Russ worked together as welders in the local strip mines. In fact, my husband, Ron Bell, bought one of his welders from Russ. Unfortunately, my husband also passed away last year due to Alzheimer Disease. My thoughts are with the family member.

“ Russ was a great friend to my late husband, Butch, and I. He was the 1st person to welcome us to Corsica and he opened his home to us. For several years after we returned home to NH, we made it a point to return to Corsica and 'hang-out' with Russ for a week or two. Russ will be missed and never forgotten. My sympathies to Scott and family. Thanks for all the memories.

“ I got to know Russell about 6 years ago. He always talked about his children and grandchildren with great love and pride. He taught me about being a truck driver and the business of welding. He was a kind man who went out of his way to quietly help a person in need. He loved his dogs! Goodbye my friend; you will never be forgotten.
